Michael T. Benson, D.Phil., is the 13th President of Eastern Kentucky University, a position he assumed on August 1, 2013. He also holds the rank of Professor within the Department of Government.

In his current role at EKU, Dr. Benson is responsible for more than 17,000 students on three campuses, nearly 2,300 full-time faculty and staff, sixteen Division I athletic teams, and an annual budget in excess of $355 million. EKU enrolls more native Kentuckians than any other institution in the Commonwealth. In 2016, EKU had its highest enrollment in history, and, despite deep cuts to state appropriations, the university has achieved its three best fundraising years in the institution's history during Benson's tenure.

Since 2013, significant increases in retention and graduation rates have also been realized, and EKU welcomed its best-prepared and most diverse freshman class to campus in fall 2017. EKU is also in the midst of an aggressive $240 million campus revitalization, which is being completed entirely with non-state-appropriated funds. Recently, EKU announced that it had doubled its four-year graduation rate in the past eight years.

Prior to his chief executive post at Eastern Kentucky, Benson was the 15th president of Southern Utah University, where he helped secure the designation for SUU as the state's public liberal arts and sciences university; established the Hispanic Center for Academic Excellence; gained admission into the Big Sky Conference for all athletic teams; completed new residence halls, a teacher education facility, and a science and engineering center; and directed the development and implementation of SUU's largest and most ambitious comprehensive fundraising effort. This drive, named the "Future is Rising Campaign," raised a record $105 million for SUU.

Central to this SUU campaign was an effort organized and launched by Dr. Benson which helped raise $38 million for the Beverley Taylor Sorenson Center for the Arts. A classically-trained pianist, Dr. Benson was named the "Administrator of the Year" by the Utah Music Educators Association. He continues to perform in various venues and has played with, among others, the Snow College Jazz Ensemble and the EKU Stephen

Foster Music Camp Orchestra. Dr. Benson holds the distinction of being the only university president to make two different colleges or universities “All-Steinway Schools” by raising over $1 million for each institution to purchase the instruments.

Before his tenure at Southern Utah, Benson served as the 14th president of Snow College, where he helped raise more private money for the institution during his tenure than had been secured in the previous 115 years of the college’s history combined. Appointed president of Snow College at age 36, Dr. Benson was the youngest college president in the history of the Utah System of Higher Education. He is also the former chair of the Executive Committee for Utah State Campus Compact, part of a national coalition of nearly 1,000 college and university presidents representing over five million students, committed to fulfilling the civic purposes of higher education.

Benson began his career in public higher education at the University of Utah, where he worked as special assistant to the president and secretary to the university, one of eight executive officers of the institution. During his tenure at Utah, Benson was named co-principal investigator (P.I.) of a $3.5 million grant from the Pew Charitable Trusts—the first such grant from Pew made to the University of Utah outside of the health sciences area—to study campaign finance reform. The research grant led to the establishment of the intermountain Center for Campaign and Media Legal Reforms at the Hinckley Institute of Politics.

Born in Utah and raised in Texas and Indiana, Benson earned his B.A. cum laude from Brigham Young University in 1990 with a major in Political Science and double minors in English and History. He completed his doctorate in Modern History from the University of Oxford (St. Antony’s College) in 1995, where he was a Rotary Foundation Scholar and recipient of the Oxford Graduate Overseas Fellowship. He also earned a master’s degree cum laude in 2011 from the Mendoza College of Business at the University of Notre Dame in Non-profit Administration, where he was the recipient of the prestigious Father Theodore Hesburgh Founder’s Award. Currently, Benson is pursuing a Master of Liberal Arts (MLA) at Johns Hopkins University and is on schedule to graduate in May 2021. Dr. Benson has worked and studied abroad for seven years in Italy (he is fluent in spoken and written Italian), England, and Israel.

Michael was a regular contributor to the Huffington Post as a featured voice on higher education and other issues for six years and his articles have appeared in various publications including the Jerusalem Post, the Kansas City Star, the Louisville Courier Journal, the Lexington Herald-Leader and Inside Higher Ed. His book, Harry S. Truman and the Founding of Israel (Praeger 1997), has been hailed as a landmark work in the research of American foreign policy and the U.S. presidency. He and his co-author, Hal R. Boyd, recently completed College for the Commonwealth: A Case for Higher Education in American Democracy (University Press of Kentucky 2018). Pulitzer Prize-winning historian and former Rhodes Professor of American history at the University of Oxford, Daniel Walker Howe, wrote this about College for the Commonwealth: “Benson and Boyd present a convincing case for why higher education needs and deserves public support. From practical examples they demonstrate how investment in higher education enables a society to rise to the opportunities presented by the future.” Michael’s next book, “Every Epoch Requires a Fresh Start”: Daniel Coit Gilman and the Birth of the Modern American Research University, is currently under contract with Johns Hopkins University Press.

Benson has served as a consulting historian and essayist for both the Skirball Cultural Center in Los Angeles and the Harry S. Truman Presidential Library in Independence, Missouri. Governor Jon Huntsman appointed Benson to the Utah Appellate Court Nominating Commission in 2009 as one of two citizen members. He fulfilled a two-year term on the Board of Advisors for the Center for Policy Analysis of the American Council on Education (ACE) and currently serves on the Council of Presidents of the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges (AGB).

Michael also serves on the Presidents' Trust for the Association of American Colleges and Universities (AAC&U) and is a member of the Task Force on University Partnerships of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU). He has served on several Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) reaffirmation committees, and recently chaired two substantive change committees for universities in Georgia and Texas.

One of three higher education representatives on the Kentucky Rising Committee, Benson is former co-chair of the Higher Education Consortium for Bluegrass Tomorrow. At present, he serves as the convener of all the presidents of Kentucky's public colleges and universities. Dr. Benson was recently appointed to the 18-person KentuckyWorks Collaborative by Governor Matt Bevin. He is also engaged in business and community affairs, having served on the regional boards of Wells Fargo Bank and Zions Bank and currently sits on the Board of Directors for the Richmond Chamber of Commerce and the Kentucky Law Enforcement Memorial Foundation Board of Directors. He has been an active member of the Rotary Club for twenty five years and is a Paul Harris Fellow.

Active in intercollegiate athletics on the national and conference level, Dr. Benson recently completed service as chair of the nine-person NCAA Honors Committee, the group charged with awarding the NCAA's highest recognitions each year. He is also the past chair of the Presidents' Council for the Ohio Valley Conference and has served in leadership roles for both the Summit League and the Big Sky Conference.

Benson is an accomplished athlete and has completed several marathons, including the Boston Marathon, with his fastest time (2:41) winning his age division in the St. George Marathon and finishing just minutes shy of the qualifying time for the U.S. Olympic Marathon Trials. As an undergraduate at Brigham Young, Benson was a member of the Junior Varsity Basketball Team. He has also participated in the world's oldest collegiate rivalry, leading the Oxford Blues Basketball Team as a player/head coach over Cambridge University in the celebrated Varsity Match.

Michael is an Eagle Scout and is active in various volunteer, civic, and church activities. He is married to Debi Woods Benson and is the father of five children: Emma, a junior at Brigham Young University; Samuel, a full-time church service volunteer in Boston, Massachusetts; and Truman, Tatum, and Talmage, all students at EKU's Model Laboratory School.

- EKU sponsors 16 Division I athletic teams and is the 5-time defending Commissioner's Cup champion of the Ohio Valley Conference

▪ Significant accomplishments in past five years

- Largest enrollment ever (2015) with the best-prepared freshman class in the school's history (2017)
- Significant increases in retention and graduation rates (six-year graduation rate for 2008 cohort was 41.94%; graduation rate for 2012 cohort is 51.34%)
- Over $240 million in non-state funded capital construction in last 36 months: two new residence halls, new dining facility, new recreation center and renovated student union
- Biggest state appropriation for a capital project, $66.5 million, to complete Phase II of a 340,000 square foot Science Center

- Highest fundraising totals over a three-year period in University's history (2015-17)
- One of two public Kentucky universities listed in Chronicle of Higher Education "Great Colleges to Work For 2016"

President

December 2006 – July 2013

Southern Utah University – Cedar City, Utah

Academic appointment: Professor of Political Science

▪ Selected Academic and Institutional Accomplishments

- Improved six-year graduation rate from 38.7% in 2007 to 52% in 2013
- Oversaw, together with the Office of the Provost, the implementation of the SUU Academic Roadmap, an aggressive four-year plan to increase resources for instruction and advising
- Garnered Utah State Board of Regents' support for SUU to receive official designation as state's public liberal arts and sciences university, as codified in the USHE's Higher Education 2020 Plan
- Landed SUU membership in the highly-selective COPLAC (Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges), the first in Utah and the 27th member institution in the United States
- Helped SUU earn a place on the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll in recognition of its commitment to volunteering, service learning, and civic engagement; recognized three years in a row by the Corporation for National and Community Service
- Spearheaded efforts to secure recognition for SUU in the annual U.S. News and World Report college rankings; regularly listed among top 75 Regional Universities (West)
- Launched endeavor and allocated resources to gain Phi Beta Kappa (PBK) membership
- Secured a Phi Kappa Phi chapter for SUU; installation in November of 2012 with first graduating class in May 2013
- Established the first-ever Omicron Delta Kappa chapter in the State of Utah, April 2012
- Repositioned SUU within a new peer set and gained State Board of Regents' approval, thereby making institutional comparisons more compatible with the University's stated mission and focus
- Consolidated the operations of two colleges (new entity: College of Science and Engineering), thus diverting funds from administration and investing additional resources into academic instruction
- Procured "All-Steinway School" status for the College of Performing and Visual Arts, thus becoming the only person in history to make two different institutions All-Steinway Schools
- Revamped the University's Board of Fellows by renaming it The National Advisory Board, doubling its size, and dramatically increasing its role and involvement
- Instituted "Pizza with the Prez," a monthly lunch hour open to all students, faculty, and staff where any questions can be asked and any issue discussed

- Faculty Accomplishments

- Augmented full-time faculty ranks by 15 percent in an era of unprecedented decline in state support by adding 34 new faculty lines.
- Increased number of student advisors by 88 percent (7 new positions) in 5 years
- Utilized second-tier tuition to raise average salaries of 98 percent of all faculty and staff; the average salary increase was $10,220 (a mean increase of 24 percent)
- Spearheaded effort to get all of faculty and staff to 95 percent of CUPA salary averages—an increase of 11 percent in just three years

- Student Success Accomplishments

- Established Hispanic Center for Academic Excellence, the first of its kind in Utah; secured additional resources for outreach into underrepresented populations
- Increased minority student population by 44 percent in 4 years
- Instituted aggressive student recruiting efforts which have resulted in a 312-percent increase in SUU's international student population in 4 years
- Raised admission index to 90, resulting in average ACT score of incoming freshmen increasing from 21.84 in Fall of 2009 to 23.12 in Fall of 2012

- Facilities Accomplishments

- Raised over $5 million in non-state funds to complete the L.S. and Aline W. Skaggs Center for Health and Molecular Sciences; the $19 million facility opened in September 2011 and was awarded LEED Gold certification—the first building to earn this designation in all of southern Utah
- Garnered more than $55 million in six years from state, federal, and private sources (most in SUU history) to support new construction and capital improvements for classrooms, laboratories, office space, and student housing
- Constructed the Dahle Plaza and Carter Carillon Tower in the center of campus, thereby creating a gathering location in the heart of campus
- Conceived of and implemented the most ambitious capital project in the history of Southern Utah University: the Beverley Taylor Sorenson Center for the Arts; project opened in summer 2016
- Supported campus-wide “greening” that included completion of a new facilities management structure with solar power-generating capacity, an aggressive recycling program, and plans for a Center for Sustainability
- Led campus-wide efforts toward increased sustainability, landing SUU in the 96th slot (out of 215 worldwide) in the UI GreenMetric listing of the world's universities for “green” policies and practices
- Launched campaign to replace the Leavitt Building with new business facility; secured funding for programming and initial design
- Chaired committee that developed and implemented the 2008 SUU Campus Master Plan, thus finalizing a document that will direct facility expansion for the next two decades

▪ Athletics Accomplishments

- Earned entry into the Big Sky Conference for all sponsored sports in July 2012, thereby realizing a 20-year goal of SUU's 17 Division I athletic teams
- Increased athletic funding by more than 70 percent in four years
- Landed a $500,000 gift for the men's basketball program three months after assuming presidency; largest gift in the history of SUU Athletics
- Funded major capital improvements, including:
 - New digital video board for Eccles Coliseum;
 - New football locker room;
 - New synthetic surface for the football field;
 - Improved baseball field;
 - New track;
 - Remodeled locker rooms for women's basketball and volleyball; and
 - New video boards within the Centrum Arena
- Added a women's volleyball program after a 22-year hiatus of the sport at SUU
- Added men's tennis as a Division I sport for the first time in SUU history
- Directed resources to focus on Academic Progress Rate (APR) and graduation rates for all athletic programs, resulting in the highest graduation rate of any Division I football team in Utah

▪ Fundraising Accomplishments

- Launched the most ambitious comprehensive campaign in SUU's history in 2007, The Future is Rising, with a goal of $100 million; campaign concluded in March 2014 with $105 million raised
- Landed, within the span of eighteen months, the three largest gifts in the history of SUU:
 - $4 million from the family of Walter and Alice Gibson to establish an endowment for scholarships and research stipends within the College of Science and Engineering;
 - $5 million for a new outdoor Shakespeare Theatre from the Ralph Engelstad Family Foundation; and $6 million from the Sorenson Legacy Foundation for the completion of the Beverley Taylor Sorenson Center for the Arts
- Instituted "institutional enhancement fee" on all gifts coming to the University to fund SUU's development operations and divert E&G lines away from advancement activities
- Conceived and instituted the Thunderbird License Plate program, from which SUU receives over $30,000 per year from the sale of collegiate license plates; when the program was launched in June 2007, only six SUU plates were in circulation—today, over 2,000 are on Utah vehicles and SUU is second only to the University of Utah in terms of popularity and sales

President

Snow College – Ephraim, Utah

Academic appointment: Professor of History

December 2001 – December 2006

▪ Selected Academic and Institutional Accomplishments

- Orchestrated the first-ever visit to campus by a Nobel Peace Prize Winner, Elie Wiesel, in May 2006; raised the entire $50,000 speaking fee with private contributions
- Lobbied for the successful passage of H.B. 161, which created Snow College-Richfield Campus, thus bringing the Ephraim and Richfield campuses under one organization, streamlining functions and administration, and providing additional instructional funds
- Reduced administrative salaries as a way to absorb budget cuts rather than cutting academic programs or laying off faculty; eliminated an entire athletic squad (baseball) as a way to maintain primary focus in academics

▪ Faculty Accomplishments

- Gained Trustee and Regent approval for new and unique degree programs, such as an A.A.S. in Traditional Building Skills, thereby ensuring the College's unique niche in areas not addressed by other institutions
- Codified a partnership with the renowned Juilliard School of Music in New York to be the exclusive "western outpost" for summer music camps, featuring Juilliard faculty and students and allowing for future exchanges and collaboration

▪ Student Success Accomplishments

- Raised more than $1 million for student scholarships over a four-year period—a 400-percent increase

▪ Facilities Accomplishments

- Designed, funded, and constructed the $19 million Eccles Center for the Performing Arts, the finest facility of its kind in all of central Utah
- Developed a new campus master plan, which included razing five dilapidated structures, remodeling two others, creating a new east-west mall with a redesigned carillon tower as the focal point, and installing a new "College Lawn" in the center of campus
- Landed the largest gift in Snow College's history—$2 million from Jon and Karen Huntsman—for a new College Library to be located on the southwest corner of campus; this new 75,000-square-foot facility was opened September 2010
- Garnered nearly $25 million in five years in state funds for new facilities and campus improvements, additions, and remodels

▪ Athletics Accomplishments

- Founded and privately funded the first-ever junior college bowl game in Salt Lake City: the Zions Bank Top of the Mountains Bowl, held each December; all net proceeds go to scholarships at Snow College

- Secured “All Nike” status for Snow College as the first junior college in America to have exclusive sponsorship of all athletic teams by the world’s largest shoe company
- Addressed pressing athletic department needs by successfully completing the 2003 St. George Marathon and raising over $50,000 in private donations
- Fundraising Accomplishments
 - Increased annual contributions by more than 500 percent: prior to 2002, yearly collections averaged $260,000; from 2002–2005, Snow’s annual total jumped to nearly $1.3 million
 - Raised more private money—over $6.4 million in cash—in a five-year period than in the previous 118 years of Snow College’s existence combined; additional pledges brought total to more than $9 million
